About Me

I am Full Stack With a main focus oriented to the Back-end. I have a background in Economic Sciences, which allowed me to contribute logic and problem solving in different environments.

I have agile knowledge of various technologies such as HTML, CSS, GIT/GITHUB, as well as Front-end frameworks such as REACT, and training in Bootstrap. My main focus is on the Back-End where I have experience with technologies such as JavaScript, Node.js, Express, Redux, Redux Toolkit, PostgreSQL and training in TypeScript.

My goal is to contribute significantly to development teams, collaborating in the creation of robust and efficient solutions that drive project success.
